QUICK WORK. Thursday the dynamo at the electric light plant got out of commission. Friday D.F. Pearce went to Jacksonville in a Ford ton truck, returned that night about 7:30 with a new dynamo. Saturday this new dynamo was installed and the lights were turned on at the usual time. The pessimistic ones predicted that it would be ten days or two weeks at least before service would be installed again. But the manager did not intend to let the patrons be without service one moment more than was absolutely necessary. The new dynamo is an improved type and the lights are brighter and much steadier.

WHAT THEY SAW IN THE PICTURE. After the school film showing the ways of caring for circus animals last week, students were asked to write compositions on what they had seen. One of the best turned in is as follows: "We had a picture show about a circus today. A big lion was in a cage. A zebra was walking around. People were riding on the buffalos. There were some boys peeping under the tent. In the tent were people and horses. Pearce Stapleton, Grade Two."

FOLKSTON SCHOOL. The Cameron, Yancey, Hickox and Lutzi children are new pupils in the Folkston School.

WEDDING. Last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Scott, Miss Audrey Scott became the wife of Mr. Beverly Lawton of Madison, Fla. After January Mr. and Mrs. Lawton will be at work in Madison.

MR. SELAH N. PECK KILLED. Mr. S.N. Peck, an estimable citizen, 78 years old, living on the Dixie Highway at Homeland, was knocked down and drug over a hundred feet Wednesday by a wildly-driven, dimly-lighted Ford by parties unknown, who in their ruthless desire to escape speeded up their car in an attempt to shake the broken and bruised man from the car, mangling him so that he departed this life 26 hours later. Mr. Peck and wife were on their way to a neighbor, walking on the edge of the road and the car zig-zagged from side to side and was not observed until right on its victim. Mr. Dick Condon, on his way home, detected the prostrate form lying in the road with Mrs. Peck frantically searching for him. As he had just passed the reckless running car without lights he speeded to Folkston to give alarm. Dr. Fleming gave medical aid but it availed only to relieve suffering. Mr. Peck has been here about three years and proved himself a splendid Christian who has many friends who are shocked by his untimely end. He is survived by his wife, and daughter, Mrs. J.L. White. The funeral will occur Saturday at Homeland.

December 15, 1922

FARMERS TO PLANT TOBACCO. Mr. J.E. Hatcher and family arrived this week from Florence, S.C. to make their home here. He is signing up contracts with the farmers to plant tobacco and has over 100 acres already signed up. Tobacco will, to a certain extent, exceed cotton as the cash crop in this section as it has grown in area for the past three seasons, to the extent where it is no longer an experiment. He has the plans to combine a tobacco barn with a potato curing house with practically no added cost. (No issue printed on December 29)
